

Global Leadership Intelligence

As globalization has evolved from being the latest corporate buzzword to a basic economic reality, organizations increasingly are realizing that they need leaders and managers with skills that translate well to the international arena.

Unfortunately however, many organizations do not know how to identify and develop people for such complex responsibilities.

Developing Your Global Leadership Intelligence offers a comprehensive process for increasing personal and organizational effectiveness in the global arena.

First, The Leading With Global Intelligence Personal Profile

Provides an initial assessment of 40 key global leadership competencies and skills that predict success for global leaders. Those who lead and manage across distance, countries, and cultures will typify success for the new global leader.

Second, The Leading With Global Intelligence Program (2 days)

Here we present the four explicit skill and areas that global leaders and managers must have to succeed in this new reality.

The Four Leading With Global Intelligence Domains addressed in the workshop are:

Personal Mastery
Creating Collaborative Advantage
Cultivating A Great Place to Work
Leading Global Networks

Third: The Workshop is followed by 90 days of coaching and action learning; issues covered but not limited to:

- * Global Business Acumen
- * Global Relationship Management
- * Global Personal Effectiveness
- * Effective Global Team Leadership
- * Developing a Global Network
- * Global Leadership: Personal Development Planning

